Washington, D.C. has implemented new COVID-19 requirements, which will require all conference attendees to provide proof of being fully vaccinated against COVID-19 in accordance with the District of Columbia's orders or obtain a medical exemption via a letter from the individual's medical provider on professional letterhead. Each attendee's status will be checked during on-site check-in, and those with a medical exemption must also provide proof of a negative PCR or antigen test within 24 hours of their arrival at conference. Anyone who does not have proof of vaccination or accepted exemption documentation will not be permitted to attend, even with a negative COVID-19 test. All attendees must wear properly positioned masks during the conference. AANP will provide masks on-site, should you forget yours or need a new one.
