Welcome!

September 24, 2021
Inductees, Fellows, Family, Friends, and Colleagues,

On behalf of the Fellow’s Executive Committee, it is my honor to welcome you to the Fellows of the American Association of Nurse Practitioners. It is our honor to recognize and welcome those Nurse Practitioners who have demonstrated their expertise in two of the following areas: clinical practice, research, education, and health policy.

Becoming a Fellow reflects a significant personal accomplishment as well as individual contributions to our profession and the nation’s health. The Fellow's designation also comes with a commitment to support the mission, values, and goals of AANP as well as to advance the role of the nurse practitioner through leadership and participation in Fellow's initiatives.

The past 18 months have been difficult for our nation, our patients, and our colleagues who are on the front lines serving with extraordinary dedication and courage. It’s been a year of ‘figuring it out’ as we shifted events and imagined new ways of staying connected. We were sad that we could not celebrate with our new Fellows in June of 2020 or 2021, but we are very excited about the opportunity to come together in person to celebrate with all of you at the Fall 2021 AANP conference. This will be a landmark celebration as we honor all our 2020 and 2021 new Fellows as well as our 2020 and 2021 Honorary Fellows, Loretta Ford awardees, and Legacy awardees.

This year we would like to recognize our Fellows Award recipients.

The 2021 FAANP Honorary Fellow is Dr. Shwu-Feng (Phoenix) Tsay. Dr. Tsay is the Director General of the Department of Nursing and Healthcare in Taiwan and she has been a strong and steady advocate for developing and expanding the NP role in Taiwan for decades. She has been laser focused on expanding the NP role from an acute care focus to a community focus, specifically to address the challenges of an aging population. Dr. Tsay oversees the practice of thousands of nurses and caregivers in long-term care centers and has introduced numerous process improvements, including community-based dementia care centers, healthcare hotlines and neighborhood home care agencies. We welcome Dr. Tsay to the Fellows.

The 2021 Loretta Ford Award is awarded to Rear Admiral (RADM) Susan Orsega the Director of Commissioned Corps Headquarters (CCHQ). RADM Orsega began her nursing career in the United States Public Health Service Commissioned Corps in 1989 at NIH, as the HIV/AIDS epidemic was unfolding. In 2001 she completed her master's degree (with a FNP concentration) at Uniformed Services University, and returned to the USPHS where she used her NP knowledge and skills to lead organizations and solve complex problems. She is recognized as a subject matter expert in the realm of HIV/AIDS global research, advanced nursing practice, health diplomacy and disaster response. She is so highly regarded for her leadership skills that in 2021 President Biden asked her to serve in the role of Acting Surgeon General of the United States, a position historically held by a physician, until Dr. Vivek Murthy was confirmed by the U.S. Congress.

The FAANP Legacy Award, was established in 2020 to honor, recognize, and memorialize FAANP members whose lifelong careers have had a profound and enduring impact on the profession and the NP role, articulating a dream that others share and follow. The 2021 recipients of the FAANP Legacy Award are Charon Pierson, Frank Cole, and Judith Dempster.

Frank L. Cole, PhD, CEN, FNP, FAAN, FAANP, FAEN was a family nurse practitioner who developed the educational and practice infrastructures that support the role of nurse practitioners in emergency care settings. Dr. Cole's work has had local, national, and international impacts, particularly in the area of curriculum development area. Through research and publications, he expanded and developed the education and role of NPs in emergency care, including the use of telemedicine to expand access to emergency care in rural areas.

Judith S. Dempster, DNSc, NP-C, FNP, FAAN advocated for NP practice for over 40 years. As the first executive director of the American Academy of Nurse Practitioners (AANP) and the AANP Foundation, Judy played a crucial role in the development of the AANP Certification Program, Corporate Council and Fellows Program. Dr. Dempster was a Vietnam Veteran and National UPHS Primary Care Policy Fellow and she served on numerous national advisory boards. Her research on autonomous practice culminated in the development of the Dempster Practice Behaviors Scale (DPBS).

Charon A. Pierson PhD, GNP-BC, FAAN, FAANP is the former editor-in-Chief of the Journal of the American Association of Nurse Practitioners (AANP) and the founding editor of the quarterly journal Nurse Practitioner Forum. Dr. Pierson has published extensively on ethics in publication and has served on the Committee on Publication Ethics (COPE) Council. Specializing in gerontology, she taught FNP, ANP, and GNP students for over 25 years while maintaining a clinical practice and has published nationally and internationally on issues related to the care of the elderly.

Please join me in congratulating and welcoming our new 2020 and 2021 Fellows and Awardees!

Sincerely,

Diane Seibert, PhD, WHNP, FAANP, FAAN
Chair, Fellows of the American Association of Nurse Practitioners
History of FAANP

The Fellows of the American Academy of Nurse Practitioners (FAANP) program was established by the American Academy of Nurse Practitioners (AANP) in 2000 to recognize nurse practitioner (NP) leaders who have made outstanding contributions to health care through NP clinical practice, research, education or policy, and to provide a forum to extend and enhance such efforts. In 2013, FAANP became the Fellows of the American Association of Nurse Practitioners with the merger of two national NP organizations.

From Think Tanks to the Mentorship Program, FAANP is dedicated to advancing the NP profession and enhance the AANP mission. FAANP members are visionaries impacting national and global health through priority initiatives, such as the creation and development of leadership and mentorship programs to foster the advancement of nurse practitioners and nurse practitioner students. All active members maintain membership in both AANP and FAANP. The FAANP leadership reports to the AANP Board of Directors.

2021 Legacy Award

Frank L. Cole, PhD, CEN, FNP, FAAN, FAEN was a family NP recognized for developing the educational and practice infrastructures that support the role of NPs in emergency care settings. Dr. Cole’s work has had a local, national, and international impact, especially with regard to the development of a curriculum for educating NPs in this area. Through research and publications, he expanded and developed the education and role of NPs in emergency care, including the use of telemedicine to provide emergency health care in rural areas.

Judith S. Dempster, DNSc, NP-C, FNP, FAANP was an advocate for NP practice for more than 40 years. As the first executive director of the American Academy of Nurse Practitioners and its foundation, she played a crucial role in the development of the American Academy of Nurse Practitioners Certification Program, Corporate Council and Fellows program. Dr. Dempster was a Vietnam veteran, National UPHS Primary Care Policy Fellow, Chair of the National Alliance of Nurse Practitioners, and served on numerous national advisory boards. In 1990, Dr. Dempster's research on autonomous practice resulted in her development of the Dempster Practice Behaviors Scale. She was honored in 2015 with the American Association of Nurse Practitioners (AANP) Sharp Cutting Edge Award for her leadership and innovation in advancing NP practice and patient care.

Charon A. Pierson, PhD, GNP-BC, FAAN, FAANP is the former editor-in-chief of the Journal of the American Association of Nurse Practitioners and the founding editor of the quarterly journal, Nurse Practitioner Forum. Dr. Pierson has published extensively on ethics in publication and has served on the Committee on Publication Ethics Council. Specializing in gerontology, she has taught FNP, ANP and GNP students for more than 25 years, maintained a clinical practice and has been published nationally and internationally on issues related to eldercare. Dr. Pierson has received numerous awards for excellence in both nursing journalism and NP practice, including the 2015 AANP Towers Pinnacle Award.

2021 Loretta C. Ford Award

The FAANP Loretta C. Ford Award is presented annually to an NP who demonstrates participation in health care policy development at an international, national or local level; sustained and specific contribution to clarification of the role and scope of practice of NPs; and/or creative and effective action to turn a challenge to the NP role into an effective opportunity to advance practice and improve patient outcomes. The recipient of the 2021 Loretta C. Ford Award for Advancement of the Nurse Practitioner Role in Health Care is:

Susan Orsega, RN, FNP-BC, MSN, FAANP has served as a U.S. Public Health Service nurse officer for over thirty years with numerous senior executive roles and was the acting surgeon general in the Biden administration. With a long history of participating in health care policy development, Rear Admiral (RADM) Orsega is recognized as a global subject matter expert in the realm of HIV/AIDS, advanced nursing practice, health diplomacy and disaster response. RADM Orsega played a fundamental role in the United States Government NH Ebola response, and more recently led the Commission Corps Headquarters’ operations to support an international COVID-19 response.

2021 Honorary Fellow

The Honorary Fellow is a non-NP who has demonstrated outstanding leadership in at least one of the following areas of importance to NPs: Practice, education, policy and research. The 2021 FAANP Honorary Fellow is:

Shwu-Feng Tsay, PhD, RN, FAAN, FAANP(H), director general in the Department of Nursing and Health Care in Ministry of Health and Welfare in Taiwan, where she is responsible for enhancing the health care of the more than 23 million Taiwanese citizens, managing a departmental budget of $34 million U.S. dollars, and overseeing the practice of thousands of nurses, caregivers and long-term care centers. Dr. Tsay is an influential advocate for the NP role in Taiwan—from her work with the Nursing Personnel Act to her strategic introduction of various initiatives and programs designed to advance nursing education, regulations and practice to meet international standards and the needs of an aging population.

As a NP and diabetes educator, she championed quality improvement initiatives such as transforming an Internal Medical practice to a Level III Patient Centered Medical Home and developing novel care delivery systems. She serves on state and national committees that improve health care quality and advocate for top of license practice.

Katherine M. Newnam, RN, PhD, CPNP, NNP-BC, IBCLC, FAANP
Primary Sponsor: Nan Gaylord
Secondary Sponsor: Elizabeth Sharpe
Katherine Newnam, RN, PhD, CPNP, NNP-BC, IBCLC, FAANP is an Associate Professor at the College of Nursing, University of Tennessee, Knoxville and a Neonatal Nurse Practitioner at the Children’s Hospital of the King’s Daughters in Norfolk, Virginia and the University of Tennessee Medical Center. Dr. Newnam’s clinical research targets strategies to reduce neonatal stress through environmental control and improving neurodevelopmental outcomes through directed language exposure during and following hospitalization. Research findings during the study of neonatal respiratory care improved the application of nasal CPAP leading to improved standards of practice in neonatal care. She has received the Borlick Dissertation Award, Gaylord/Rodgers Research Award, ANA, and Sigma Theta Research Awards.

Blanca Iris Padilla, PhD, MSN, APRN, FNP-BC
Primary Sponsor: Maria Colandrea
Secondary Sponsor: Valerie Sabol
Dr. Blanca Iris Padilla is an Assistant Professor at the Duke School of Nursing and a family nurse practitioner. She has been providing care to the underserved population for nearly 16 years. She completed a successful HRSA-ANE grant that led to the development of the first Diabetes/Endocrinology Specialty for NP students in the country, created academic-practice partnerships that provided unparalleled clinical training to NP students from diverse backgrounds in federally qualified health centers and specialty clinic across the country, and connected hundreds of national/international preceptors with ongoing education/training using an innovative web platform. Dr. Padilla’s dedication to NP education and practice demonstrates her commitment to the NP profession and patient health outcomes.

Leslie K. Scott, PhD, APRN, PPCNP-BC, MLDE, CDECS, FAANP
Primary Sponsor: Sheila Melander
Secondary Sponsor: Kathy Wheeler
Dr. Leslie Scott is an associate professor at the University of Kentucky, College of Nursing. She is the Coordinator of the Primary Care, Pediatric Nurse Practitioner Program. She is a board certified, pediatric nurse practitioner and Certified Diabetes Care & Education Specialist. Her clinical practice is in pediatric endocrinology at the University of Kentucky, Barnstable-Brown Diabetes Center. In 2018, she received the Dickenson Wright, Nurse of the Year Award and the Florence Nightingale Awards in Nursing. Both awards were for her continued service to children with diabetes in Kentucky. Dr. Scott continues her advocacy efforts for access to safe care at school for children with diabetes throughout Kentucky.

Donnie Scoggin, FNP, FAANP
Primary Sponsor: Jean Aertker
Secondary Sponsor: Johnnie Wijewardane
Donnie Scoggin is the senior nurse practitioner at Ellisville Medical Clinic in Ellisville, Mississippi. He represents District 89 in the Mississippi House of Representatives as the first nurse practitioner to serve in the State House. Donnie is an adjunct clinical nurse practitioner faculty. He was the first nurse practitioner in his hometown and was instrumental in recruiting more nurse practitioners to this rural area. Donnie works to enact legislation that will remove barriers to practice and allow full practice authority. He presents at the state and national levels and promotes nurse practitioners becoming politically active. He was the AANP 2018 Mississippi Advocate of the Year and received the Mississippi Nurses’ Association Nurse Practitioner of the Year Award in 1995.

Primary Sponsor: April Kapu
Secondary Sponsor: Ruth Kleinpell
Megan Shifrin, DNP, ACNP-BC, FAANP is an Assistant Professor of Nursing and the coordinator of the Adult-Gerontology Acute Care Nurse Practitioner Intensivist Focus at Vanderbilt University School of Nursing. Her work in critical care and AG-ACNP education have fostered presentations at conferences and courses hosted by the American Association for Nurse Practitioners, American Association of Critical Care Nurses, National Organization for Nurse Practitioner Faculties, Society of Critical Care Medicine, CHEST, and the International Society for Simulation in Healthcare. Dr. Shifrin is recognized for her committee work with the American Thoracic Society, American Nurses Association, and American Nurses Credentialing Center and for her contributions to Tennessee's healthcare reform.

Lori A. Spies, PhD, APRN, FNP-C, FAANP
Primary Sponsor: Amy Roberts
Secondary Sponsor: Jessica Peck
Dr. Lori A. Spies is an FNP and expert educator with an outstanding scholarship record. She brings global health expertise to expanding the NP role internationally, particularly in African countries. Dr. Spies teaches Global Health and Epidemiology, and mentors students in globally relevant DNP projects. Her graduates have established nurse-led clinics in Kenya, Ethiopia, South Sudan, Uganda, and the US. She is a Fulbright Scholar with an active program of research. Dr. Spies is past president of North Texas Nurse Practitioners, current Texas Nurse Practitioner Legislative Ambassador, and co-chair of the ICN Advanced Practice Nursing Network Practice sub-committee. She is widely published and has received global and local recognition and awards.

Megan Troutman Buckler, DNP, ACNP-BC, NE-BC, FAANP
Primary Sponsor: Kathy Wheeler
Secondary Sponsor: Sheila Melander
Dr. Lacey Troutman Buckler is the Assistant Chief Nurse Executive at the University of Kentucky Healthcare System. She oversees the professional home for Advanced Practice which encompasses over 500 APPs and also serves as the nurse leader for the Cardiovascular, Neuroscience, Interventional, and Infection Control service lines. Dr. Buckler has successfully embedded APRNs into every clinical team throughout the University of Kentucky and has changed the face of care at the flagship academic medical center in Kentucky. She is known nationally as an experienced APRN executive and serves a resource to systems looking to implement an APP model of care. Dr. Buckler has received numerous accolades locally and nationally for her dedication to advanced practice and patient care.

Mary Jo Vetter, DNP, RN, AGPCNP-BC, FAANP
Primary Sponsor: James Pace
Secondary Sponsor: Mary Brennan
Mary Jo Vetter DNP, RN, AGPCNP-BC, FAANP is currently a Clinical Associate Professor and Director of the DNP Program at NYU Meyers College of Nursing. She engages in clinical practice as the founder of VetterAPN Consulting promoting strategies to support successful aging in place. Dr. Vetter has expertise in evidence-based quality improvement, establishing cutting-edge NP led primary care services in the community, and virtual care delivery. The outstanding contribution to NP practice that led to a Fellowship nomination is her proven track record of innovation in practice and education that positions the NP as leader. She has received awards and accolades for her contributions to clinical academic partnerships, advancing and leading the profession, and transforming advanced practice nursing.

Candy Wilson, PhD, APRN, WHNP-BC, FAAN, FAANP
Primary Sponsor: Leilani Saki
Secondary Sponsor: Catherine Ling
Dr. Candy Wilson is an Associate Professor at the Uniformed Services University of the Health Sciences, Bethesda, MD. Dr. Wilson is a Colonel in the United States Air Force and has served in the active duty forces for 28 years. Throughout her nursing and military career, she has provided patient care as a Women’s Health Nurse Practitioner. While in Afghanistan, she provided humanitarian care to women and children in remote villages, who previously received no health care. Dr. Wilson’s interest in symptom science research through an occupational health focus addressed military women’s health needs in three prominent areas: women’s deployment health; nutritional needs in training; and chronic pain management. This interest led to informing health care policy and clinical practice.

Arlene T. Wright, DNP, APRN, FNP-BC, FAANP
Primary Sponsor: Deoreen Cassarino
Secondary Sponsor: Cindy Parsons
Dr. Arlene Wright is an expert primary care clinician practicing in Fort Myers, Florida. Her strong leadership and advocacy skills positioned her to be selected as the first director of Advanced Practice Providers within the 2nd nationally ranked independent ACO. Dr. Wright’s significant contributions have raised the level of NP practice and moved state legislation closer to full practice. Dr. Wright’s dedication to promoting quality educational experiences for NP students and mentoring new NP’s provided the impetus to create a sustainable preceptor model aligning academia with clinical practice. She has been the recipient of numerous accolades including the FNA Advanced Registered Nurse award and the AANP NP Advocacy award for Florida.
Stephanie Wynn, DNP, RN-BC, PMHNP-BC, FNP-BC, COI, FAANP
Primary Sponsor: Gary Laustsen
Secondary Sponsor: Robin Lawson
Stephanie Wynn, DNP, RN-BC, PMHNP-BC, FNP-BC, COI, FAANP is a Professor, Assistant Dean for Scholarly Activity, and clinician/educator with extensive experience in APRN course, curriculum, and program development. She procured over 7 million dollars to develop and implement new programs (NP Residency, PMHNP track, and Interprofessional Behavioral Health Program) to promote NP practice with an emphasis on behavioral health and telehealth. For over a decade, her clinical practice has provided high quality health care to medically underserved populations. She has numerous publications derived from her academic and clinical work. Dr. Wynn is recognized by the American Nurses Credentialing Center as a PMHNP content expert and was awarded the inaugural Outstanding Faculty Award by her school’s Advisory Board.

Theresa Pluth Yeo, PhD, MPH, AOCNP, ACNP-BC, FAANP
Primary Sponsor: Julie Stanik-Hutt
Secondary Sponsor: Janet Selway
Dr. Theresa Pluth Yeo is an ACNP and Oncology NP, Co-Director of the Jefferson Pancreas Tumor Registry and Adjunct Associate Professor of Nursing at Thomas Jefferson University. She serves as an investigator on funded and investigator-initiated research protocols focusing on factors related to the genetics, epidemiology, quality of life, and symptom management of patients with pancreatic cancer. Dr. Yeo has been recognized by regional, national and international organizations as an expert clinician, program director, nurse researcher, and professional leader. At Jefferson she was awarded a HRSA grant to develop an advanced oncology nurse practitioner master’s degree program, focusing on cultural diversity. Her goal is to empower NPs in the pursuit of clinical and research excellence.
